What are you doing to pass the time today?

"The Ortmans have given us a little hint:
"This is the perfect time to tackle all those household "projects" that we always keep putting on hold because there isn't enough time!"

A project a day could keep boredom at bay! If it's a large project you could break it down into doing part of it each day. Think about your "honey-do" lists! Now is the perfect time to work on them." Or things like doing a jigsaw puzzle together, get out the scrabble board, read that book you've been meaning to read, organize photos or recipes!

Let us know by sending an email to umcnorthchili@gmail.com

I'll compile a list and we'll have one more way to connect and be part of each other's lives!
